

Your Skin's Health

The skin is our largest and most visible organ, yet it is often neglected. As we age – so too does our skin. Age spots, blemishes, dry, scaly skin and fine lines become more common, affecting our confidence and our health. If left untreated, the rough, dry, sun damaged skin can turn into a skin cancer. Once a skin cancer is detected, there is a greater risk of further skin cancers occurring in the surrounding area.

The good news is that, by working with your doctor and allmedic™, you can assist in repairing and protecting your skin from the seven signs of ageing and environmental damage.

allmedic™ & Your Doctor
