Cosmetic procedures such as Wrinkle Smoothing Injections, Dermal Fillers and Plasma Rich Protein (PRP) are fast becoming the non-invasive treatment option for people with fine or deep-line wrinkles and volume loss in face or hands. These procedures require advanced training, anatomical understanding and scientific art and precision, it is for these reasons that Skin Alert injectors are ONLY highly qualified cosmetic doctors. Wrinkle Smoothing Injections

A safe non-invasive injectable treatment used for both cosmetic and medical purposes: wrinkles, crows feet, facial lines and certain conditions including excess underarm sweating and migraine headaches.

As we age skin volume loss may manifest as a wrinkle, fold, flattening or sagging. Dermal Fillers act to rejuvenate & revolumise affected areas such as the face and hands.

Plasma Rich Protein

Plasma Rich Protein (PRP) is a recent safe technology that uses cell-stimulating ingredients from your own blood to rejuvenate collagen resulting in vibrant, fresh and younger skin.

Full Skin Checks

Book in for a complete skin assessment with one of our advanced trained skin doctors. Skin Alert's male and female doctors are not only trained to treat sun damage issues and abnormal lesions but many other skin conditions such as acne, pigmentation, oily skin, skin tags, age warts, fine lines and facial volume loss. Please highlight those areas of concern so that you may be referred to see one of our skin health therapists for further information or advice on available procedures.

Medical Microdermabrasion

Resurface, clean and smooth your skin. Medical Grade Microdermabrasion is a clinic-only procedure, used to treat dry solar damaged and aged skin, fine wrinkles, pigmentation and is very effective for people with active acne and scarring. Microdermabrasion physically abrades the top layer of skin with a Diamond Head exfoliator while vacuuming up the dead skin cells, increasing skin turnover and new cell growth. This procedure also assists your "allmedic" medical grade skin products to penetrate deeper promoting radiant skin health.

Skin Health Therapist

Map out your personalised skin health action plan including a FREE skin scan. Working alongside our doctors, our skin health therapists integrate the latest scientific skin education and product expertise to achieve the patient's optimal skin health. By pinpointing your skin conditions and risk areas, the correct doctor only skin products, script medications and procedures can be administered to provide a brighter skin future. Remember: skin can be repaired.

Chemical Peels

Chemical peels are a method of regenerating and resurfacing aged and sun damaged or acne skin. The chemical solution removes the top layer of skin inducing collagen remodelling and increasing cell turnover. Beneficial in purifying congested acne or large pores while also removing pigmentation, fine lines and acne scarring. Different peel strengths are used for a variety of skin conditions. Please enquire with your doctor on the chemical peel level that would best suit your skin.

'Doctor Only' Skin Products

Skin Alert recommends doctor only skin products that are medically designed, developed and supported by the latest scientific research. The "allmedic" skin product range was created by a team of Australian skin doctors and specialists who work in the skin cancer, cosmetic and skin allergy fields. These medical grade repair and protection products have high concentrations of biologically active ingredients that are sensitive to allergenic skin types.

Acne & Acne Scarring

Acne is the world's number 1 chronic skin disease and as such should be treated by a doctor. Skin Alert's acne doctors treat mild to severe conditions along with scars, discolouration and pitted indurated skin. Make an appointment to plot your "Acne Action Plan" customised to your skin's needs. Treatment options for acne scarring include: medical microdermabrasion, chemical peels, injectable fillers, needling, steroid injections and minor surgical procedures.

Photodynamic Therapy

Photodynamic Therapy is the latest method in medical technology combining therapeutic and cosmetic benefits. Providing significant improvements to rosacea, large pores, moderate to severe acne, pigmentation, sun damaged, aged or blemished skin. PDT can also treat superficial cancers and precancerous skin on cosmetically sensitive areas such as the face, nose and ears. This unique new treatment is bringing new life back to weathered and aged skin in areas that in the past have been difficult to treat (chest, arms, hands and legs).

Cosmetic Mole Removal

Skin Alert's advanced trained skin doctors specialise in the removal of harmless warts and tags on all areas of the body: a fast and simple procedure that requires no cutting or stitching and minimal (if any) scarring. All lesions are thoroughly examined including a pathology test if needed to exclude abnormality. Please point out to your doctor during your consultation if you have any skin growths or tags that you may wish to say goodbye to.
